

Template Week 7 – Host your website on GitHub

Student number: 547518

Domain name (URL) of your website on GitHub:

<https://github.com/Machole6/Website-Marco-547518>

Relevant screenshots + motivation:

The screenshot shows a GitHub repository page. At the top, it displays the repository name 'Website-Marco-547518' and its status as 'Public'. Below the header, there are tabs for 'Code', 'Issues', 'Pull requests', 'Actions', 'Projects', 'Wiki', 'Security', 'Insights', and 'Settings'. The 'Code' tab is selected. On the left, there's a sidebar with options like 'Code', 'Issues', 'Pull requests', 'Actions', 'Projects', 'Wiki', 'Security', 'Insights', and 'Settings'. The main content area shows a list of files and their commit history. The commits are as follows:

File	Commit Message	Time Ago
css	Added files from sites.zip	6 minutes ago images	Added files from sites.zip	6 minutes ago
pdf	Added files from sites.zip	6 minutes ago home.html	Added files from sites.zip	6 minutes ago index.html	Added files from sites.zip	6 minutes ago
week1.html	Added files from sites.zip	6 minutes ago
week2.html	Added files from sites.zip	6 minutes ago
week3.html	Added files from sites.zip	6 minutes ago
week4.html	Added files from sites.zip	6 minutes ago
week5.html	Added files from sites.zip	6 minutes ago
week6.html	Added files from sites.zip	6 minutes ago
week7.html	Added files from sites.zip	6 minutes ago

Below the file list is a 'README' file. To the right of the file list, there's an 'About' section with the following text: 'Website made to compile all the work for IT Fundamentals at saxion'. It also shows activity metrics: 0 stars, 0 watching, and 0 forks. There are sections for 'Releases', 'Packages', 'Deployments', and 'Languages'. The 'Languages' section shows HTML as 82.9% and CSS as 17.1%.

Here is the screenshot of the github for my website

Ready? Save this file and export it as a pdf file with the name: week7.pdf